endorse or support this. I would expect that they would not. But they to my knowledge have not opposed it vigorously. So they apparently can live with it.

SENATOR DICKINSON: Thank you, Senator Cavanaugh. This...the thing that Senator Cavanaugh is offering is there, there is, are and have been, and will be problems in this area. And I am not objecting to this amendment as introduced with the bill. It may or may not hurt it before it gets across the board. We might hear from somebody. But I'm perfectly willing that the amendment to this affect be put on the bill.

PRESIDENT: Senator Keyes, stand by. You spoke once we are going to let Senator Frank Lewis have the floor for a minute.

SENATOR FRANK LEWIS: I'd ask Senator Dickinson a question.

PRESIDENT: Senator Dickinson yield.

SENATOR DICKINSON: Yes.

SENATOR FRANK LEWIS: There was some opposition from the city of Bellevue in regard to this amendment before the committee and I suspect you would have to hear that. Does the bill resolve with your amendments their objections to the bill?

They can't do anything, Senator Nore, with the ones that are passed. But they can designate and make sure that they are right in the future. I don't know what Bellevue's a..objection was, but I hope we took care of it. If Senator Cavanaugh's amendments are not opposed by the SID Districts vigorously, I certainly would support it.

PRESIDENT: All right, are you all through discussing the question. Senator Cavanaugh, we are back to you now. Senator Cavanaugh is closing on his amendment to 757. Senator Cavanaugh.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: O.K. To put it simply, this amendment would give some voice to the people who purchase homes and decide to make their home place in certain SID's, a voice which they don't have now. They are completely dominated over protracted periods of time by the developers of the SID's who remain in control of the voting power and the Board of Trustees of the SID's. The
